Descripción:

Boy's breathable sneaker with a running-shoe-inspired design.
Geox's Alben Boy is extremely versatile and features an upper in soft olive-drab suede with vibrant orange-and-red detailing. A perfect piece of athleisurewear which will prove to be an ideal match to both casual and sporty outfits.
Made from rubber with an EVA midsole, the outsole ensures resistance, grip, lightness and flexibility.
Practical and hygienic, the removable footbed has been lined with non-toxic chrome-free child-safe leather for ongoing well-being and to keep feet feeling dry all day long.

There is a perfect shoe for every child. We have them all.
Thanks to Geox’s high level of specialisation, GEOX knows how to ensure the correct development and wellbeing for young feet during every phase of growth.
Every so often children dream about being adults. That’s why we have designed a model for your children that is inspired by mum and dad’s shoes yet does not impede safety and comfort.
The classic Geox rubber sole is based on an exclusive patent: the combination of the perforated sole and the resistant breathable and waterproof membrane allow for natural temperature regulation, thereby creating the perfect microclimate inside the shoe that keeps feet dry and comfortable for the whole day.
